

3-STRAND POLY DACRON COMBO ROPE

POLYESTER / POLYPROPYLENE · LOW STRETCH · HIGH ABRASION RESISTANCE · 1/4" TO 3" · WLL 100 TO 20,580 LBS.

Polydac rope is made from a combination of polyester and polypropylene fibers and is an excellent, low cost, general utility rope. This economical, high strength rope has very low stretch properties, high abrasion resistance and is easily spliced. Additionally polydac has good dielectric properties. Used in construction and fishing industries.

BENEFITS & FEATURES

- Combination of polyester and polypropylene fibers
- Excellent low-cost, general utility rope
- Very low stretch properties
- High abrasion resistance
- Easily spliced
- Good dielectric properties
- White with a colored tracer — also White, Black and Tan
- Additional sizes and colors available on special order

Packaging: Standard reels of 600 ft. and 1,200 ft. · 1/4" to 1-1/4" supplied on reels · 1-1/2" to 3" supplied in coils.

All rope supplied White with a colored tracer unless otherwise specified; White, Black and Tan also available. Working load limits are shown as a minimum–maximum range and are not break strengths. Working load must be reduced to allow for the conditions of use, including shock loading, sustained loading, abrasion and knots. Not recommended for overhead lifting.
